

A message from Spiro Mallis.

Welcome to the first edition of the Mallison Newsletter, Inside Real Estate. Inside Real Estate will take you into the inside world of buying selling investing and renting in real estate. All the questions you wanted answered and the information you have been searching for will all be released in this fortnightly publication.

Mallison Real Estate is always interested in what our readers think so please keep sending in your feedback. Anything from what you thought of a particular article to information you would like to hear more about.

Inside Real Estate... just another way Mallison is looking after the community.

Why NOW is the perfect time to sell!

It's all about supply and demand. When demand out weights supply, then price is sure to increase.

Currently in real estate there is a shortage of homes on the market and due to the West Australian resource sector there is also an increase in population.

This variance in supply and demand means many buyers are competing for the few homes available. Homes are selling fast and at an impressive price.

Before you make a decision regarding buying selling or investing, talk to an experienced Mallison consultant. With all the Mallison facts you are provided with, making the right decision is a piece of cake!

Call today for a FREE market appraisal. You might be pleasantly surprised.
